

U.S. AND FOREIGN GOVERNMENT ADVICE AND INTERFACE

Veritas Assurance Partners offers insights, advice and strategic communication services for clients that require straightforward, clear insights and advice concerning US and foreign governments' processes and decision-making mechanisms. Specifically, we can help our clients understand the often complex and informal practices and culture of the US Inter-Agency structure, as well as the internal process of particular US federal agencies. Veritas Assurance Partners is positioned to offer similar insights and advice concerning the functioning of key foreign governments, especially in Latin America, the Caribbean, Iraq and Afghanistan.

Veritas Assurance Partners counts on its network of retired American ambassadors, military officers, federal prosecutors, law enforcement agents, USAID officers and other former federal agents. These officers and agents provide insights and advice concerning the US inter-agency process, foreign governments as well as how to most effectively approach and engage with particular US government agencies (and foreign counterpart agencies) such as:

- Department of Defense
- Department of State
- Department of Justice
- US Agency for International Development
- Federal Bureau of Investigations
- Drug Enforcement Agency
- Immigration and Customs Enforcement
- Securities and Exchange Commission
- US Coast Guard
